Global warming

While I do think man may have a role in our climate,
I think nature also has a role.
The planet's 4.5 billion years old.
We've been through geologic age after geologic age. We've had times when the temperature's
been warmer, we've had times
when the temperature's been colder.
We've had times when the carbon
in the atmosphere's been higher.
We need to look before we leap.
