

1%ers say

Indeed, you may take it that what characterized our relationship was an atmosphere of taking everything for granted.

The given proposition was that we were all “good people.”

John Dowell, narrator of Ford Madox Ford's The Good Soldier, on he and wife Florence's relationship with Edward Ashburnham and his wife, Leonora