

2016 Presidential primaries

Tom Donohue, of the US Chamber of Commerce, corporate America's top lobbyist, voiced his dismay at the presidential campaign.

"I used to call the lead-up to the big national election 'silly season,' but given some of rhetoric and proposals that we're hearing from both parties, it's not silly; it's damn serious, and sometimes a little scary," he said.

Financial Times, January 15, 2016, on Wall Street's alarm at calls to end low tax rates on carried interest income
