

2018 midterm elections

In the 2018 election, density was the single strongest determinant of who voted Democratic and who voted Republican, with eight hundred people per square mile being the cutoff.

Below that number, 66 percent voted Republican.

Above it, 66 percent voted Democratic.

Stephen Marche, The Next Civil War