

2020 Presidential election

The Deputy White House Counsel reiterated to Co-Conspirator 4 [Jeffrey Clark] that there had not been outcome-determinative fraud in the election and that if the Defendant remained in office nonetheless, there would be "riots in every major city in the United States."

Co-Conspirator 4 responded, "Well, [Deputy White House Counsel], that's why there's an Insurrection Act [which Trump would use to deploy armed military forces against civilian protesters]."

United States of America v. Donald J. Trump