

2024 Presidential primaries

Rapist Republican Frontrunner Heads Straight to Court After Iowa Win headline,

article in The New Republic, January 16, 2024, about Trump flying to New York City after winning the Iowa caucuses to attend a trial to set damages after a jury unanimously decided he had sexually assaulted E. Jean Carroll in the mid-1990s and defamed her in 2019, and the judge declared him to be a "rapist" as the term is "commonly understood by most people," instead of flying to New Hampshire, the site of 2024's second presidential primary