

Advertising

Another popular misconception is that newspapers tailor editorial lines to suit advertisers. ...

Generally, advertising matters less to newspapers since ad spending migrated online. In 2020, for the first time on record, US newspapers' revenues from circulation exceeded advertising, reports Pew Research. Ads increased only in cable television, Fox's domain.

Simon Kuper,
Financial Times, April 13, 2023