

Affirmative action

I would like to see jurisprudence issued in which racial classifications are considered off-limits, except under the most extraordinary circumstances.

Police seeking to infiltrate a race-based drug gang could hire someone of the same background, but that's about it.

Edward Blum