

Artificial intelligence

In Shenzhen
facial recognition is used identify jaywalkers; names and pictures go up on a screen.

In Beijing
the municipality has started using the technology to catch thieves of toilet paper in public restrooms (its system also prevents people from taking more than 60 centimetres of paper within a nine-minute period).

The Economist, September 9, 2017