

Artificial intelligence

Paid-by-the-hour workers in low-wage industries such as retailing will be especially vulnerable.

That could fuel a resurgence of labour unions seeking to represent employees' interests and to set norms. Even then, the choice in some jobs will be between being replaced by a robot or being treated like one.

The Economist, March 31, 2018