

The arts

I'm telling you, Argentina – the mosh pit must have been 50,000 people. They just turn out, right? Now it's the Stones and Bob Dylan. This guy comes up to Nita, who's sitting on the end, at her first-ever concert, and he says to her, "Miss, make a contribution to fight HIV/AIDS, and then you get this gift." And the gift was a pack of condoms.

And she's like, "What? What?"

"Never mind, just put it in your purse."

Of all people, 80,000 people in the place, they pick her to go give a pack of condoms to at her first concert ever.

Nancy Pelosi on a concert she and Nita Lowey attended in Argentina while on a security visit