

Bad news

It's much cheaper and easier to just report competing accusations.

“Karl Rove says that the moon is made of cheese and stolen ballots and the ACLU says that's not totally accurate.”

That's called a “balanced” report.

Greg Palast,
The Best Democracy Money Can Buy