

Bullshitters say

It's very easy for folks to say:
"Oh, it has to do with Disneyland."

We actually never heard from Disneyland on this.

This actually has nothing to do with that.
And it has everything to do with the bus riders who use this bus stop.

A spokesman for Anaheim, California, home to Disneyland and 800 homeless people, commenting on the city's policy of replacing benches at bus stops with concrete stools at stops on routes to Disneyland in order to reduce the visibility of its homeless people, stop them from sleeping on its benches, and encourage them to leave town