

By the numbers

A 2014 study ... found that students who are enrolled only part time in classes (often because they need to work to cover costs) drop out at a rate of 68 percent, compared to 19 percent for full-time students.

American Scientist, November-December 2016, citing National Student Clearinghouse data