

Change

As our case is new,
so we must think anew and act anew.
We must disenthrall ourselves,
and then we shall save our country.

Abraham Lincoln,
Second Annual Message to Congress (1862)