

Christianity

Evangelism created a safe harbor for white people who wanted to be counted as Christian without having to accept what ecumenical leaders said were the social obligations demanded by the gospel, especially the imperative to extend civil equality to nonwhites.

David A. Hollinger,
*Christianity's American Fate:
How Religion Became More Conservative and Society More Secular*