

The Constitution of the United States

We are living through a time of constitutional inversion.

When it comes to the religion clauses in the First Amendment and the equal-protection guarantee in the Fourteenth Amendment, what was once constitutionally prohibited is now constitutionally required.

...

The trajectory of the religion clauses and the equal-protection clause share a driving force: opposition to Brown v. Board of Education and a desire to limit the reach of that decision.

Leah Litman, The Atlantic, October 31, 2020