

COVID-19 coronavirus

Letting people put others at risk by refusing to wear masks, practice social distancing, or get vaccinated is qualitatively the same as letting individuals use the threat of violence to get what they want; in both cases, government has a crucial role — it constrains destructive individual behavior.

Paul Krugman,
New York Review of Books, March 10, 2022