

Dead-in-the-heads say

Every single year more than 600,000 people in the US die from cancer.

The country has never once shut down.

Not a single school has closed.

And every year, over 600,000 people, of all ages and all races will continue to die from cancer.

Marjorie Taylor Greene, 9:27 AM – Dec 4, 2021,
who believes cancer is contagious like COVID-19, whooping cough or sexually transmitted infections