

Deindustrialization

Today in Fort Wayne, I talked to somebody from Arlington that heard from someone in Lordstown that heard from someone in Wentzville that is related to someone in Lansing that heard about a psychic in Detroit that contacted Elvis, and Elvis said that he heard from 'a good source that is high up' that the day Hell freezes over, GM is going to reopen the Janesville plant.
Probably just a rumor.

Posted March 29, 2012, to Facebook group Janesville Wisconsin GM Transfers, 500+ workers commuting to plants across the South and Midwest years after Janesville shut down