

Democracy

An illiberal democracy is centered on the supposed needs of the community rather than the inalienable rights of the individual.

It is democratic because it respects the will of the majority; illiberal because it disrespects the concerns of minorities.

Madeleine Albright,
*Fascism: A Warning