

Democrats

The Democrats came to think of themselves not as the voice of working class people at all but as a sort of coming together of the learned and the virtuous.

Thomas Frank, The People, No