

Democrats

The question is always,
'How are you gonna pay for that?'
We never sound credible as Democrats on that, and it shrinks up our ambitions.
So our ambitions keep narrowing.
'Well, can we have just a little bit of child care? How about a tiny bit? Could we give a little help on student loans?'
Let me make this pitch:
Who's gonna show up to reduce student loan debt by 2%?
I'm serious! Who's gonna show up on our side to fight for that?
