

Drugs

The authors of a May 2018 research paper published by the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland estimated that prescription opioids accounted for 44% of the decrease in men's labor force participation observed since 2001.

Bloomberg Businessweek, August 9, 2021