

Facial recognition software

In May, San Francisco outlawed the use of facial recognition by police and city agencies.

The city that's exporting advances in face-finding all over the world knows not to allow the technology on its home turf.

Joel Stein,
Bloomberg Businessweek, August 12, 2019