

Fear

The shocks of recent years have made generous and effective action more politically difficult in high-income countries. Frightened people become inward-looking.

Martin Wolf,
Financial Times, June 13, 2023