

Food

I eat whatever's in front of me
— usually ribs —
and follow it with a martini.
Modern medicine ensures
I won't die straight away.
It's a glorious time to be alive.

Gary Scheiyngart,
New York Times, August 27, 2023