

Great Recession

Moneyed interests understand that with no second FDR, no incorruptible new cop on the financial beat, no return to the rules that once made banking boring but safe, they have nothing to fear from us, and may do as they please.
This is the real tragedy of the Great Recession.

Thomas Frank, Pity the Billionaire