

Hunger

We've had considerable information that people go to food kitchens because the food is fine and that's easier than paying for it.

Edwin Meese,
Nixon's Attorney General