

Hypocrites say

There's no question, none, that President Trump is practically and morally responsible for provoking the events of the day.

No question about it. The people who stormed this building believed that they were acting on the wishes and instructions of their president. And having that belief was a foreseeable consequence of the growing crescendo of false statements, conspiracy theories and reckless hyperbole which the defeated president kept shouting into the largest megaphone on planet earth.

Mitch McConnell, February 13, 2021, after preventing impeachment 2.0 from starting as long as Trump was still president, and then voting to acquit him because Trump was "constitutionally ineligible for conviction" given that he's no longer president
