

Ideas

[J]ust to sustain constant growth in GDP per person, the U.S. must double the amount of research effort searching for new ideas every 13 years to offset the increased difficulty of finding new ideas.

"Are Ideas Getting Harder to Find?"
National Bureau of Economic Research
Working Paper No. 23782,
November 2017