

Income inequality

In 2018, the median household income for a black family was $41,361, having grown 3.4 per cent over the previous decade, according to the latest US Census Bureau data.
This compared with a median income $70,642 for non-Hispanic whites which had grown 8.8 per cent since the 2008 crisis.

Financial Times, June 4, 2020