

Kwiplers say

Require inverted American companies to include the phrase “US tax deserter” in all communications with the public, including advertising and packaging