

Lies

The point of challenging a lie is not to convince the liar, who is likely to be too far gone in his or her dark purpose to be rehabilitated.
But because every liar has an audience, there may still be time to do some good for others.

Lee McIntyre, *Post-Truth