

Meritocracy

Being a member of the “lucky sperm club” confers no moral right to advantage.
What one is born with, or without,
is not of one's own doing.

Michael Young,
The Rise of the Meritocracy