

Military parades

I will say this:
it won't make him happy.
And I think it's important that he knows that.

Whatever this presidency is about —the search for a lost father's love, trying to fill a void with something tangible—that parade is going to go past him and he's going to realize this isn't it either.
It's not gonna happen. Those phallic missiles, he'll think, "No, okay, it must be something else then."
And that—that—is when we're really fucked.

on Trump wanting a parade of his own
