

Military parades

The marching orders were: “I want a parade like the one in France,” said a military official who spoke on the condition of anonymity because the planning discussions are supposed to remain confidential. “This is being worked at the highest levels of the military.”

Washington Post, February 6, 2018, on “a Jan. 18 meeting between Trump and top generals in the Pentagon’s tank – a room reserved for top-secret discussions,” during which Trump said he wanted a parade like he saw in France on Bastille Day, 2017