

Millennials

Even before coronavirus, she [Ana Hernández Kent, a policy analyst at the Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis] calculates that the typical older millennial family's median wealth – what they own minus what they owe – was around a third lower than where they should be compared with previous generations at the same stage of life.

Financial Times, July 9, 2020