

Money in politics

I don't waste my time on stories that involve money and politics because what I care about is ideas.

Leonard Leo, recipient of a $1.6 billion donation from Chicago billionaire Barre Seid to spend on getting conservatives who are committed to returning America to the eighteenth century (when things were as they should be) appointments as judges at all levels of the judiciary — federal, state, and local