

Offshoring

A 2006 report by the U.S. Government Accountability Office found that much administration of state government programs had been shifted offshore, including—in what seemed like a cruel joke—the processing of unemployment insurance claims.

Timothy Noah,
The Great Divergence