

Partisanship

Apparently no one in Trump's circle reached out, before the news became public, to tell the Biden camp about the president's positive coronavirus test, even though Biden had shared a debate stage with the president for more than 90 minutes.

No one directly informed Nancy Pelosi, the speaker of the House.

This is also the state of America.
And it's not right.

Frank Bruni,
New York Times, October 2, 2020