

Photography

What's the point of getting killed if you've got the wrong exposure?

Don McCullin, on stopping to take light readings while photographing in combat