

Post-truth

[P]ost-truth amounts to a form of ideological supremacy, whereby its practitioners are trying to compel someone to believe in something whether there is good evidence for or not. And this a recipe for political domination.

Lee McIntyre, Post-Truth