

Presidential debates

We're going to continue to have TV debates that serve the purposes of TV, especially commercial TV, rather than the interests of the voters. ...

The debates are not designed for you.

The debates are not designed to enlighten us about who can do the job of the presidency because the debates have absolutely nothing to do with the job of President of the United States.

Lawrence O'Donnell,
The Last Word with Lawrence O'Donnell,
August 1, 2019