

Privacy

Anne Longfield,
England's children's commissioner, has calculated that by the time the average child is 18, 70,000 posts about them will have appeared online, starting with ultrasound pictures from the womb.

Simon Kuper,
Financial Times, January 24, 2019