

Progress

We've quietly
ditched the idea of progress.
Perhaps high-income countries
don't need it any more.
The new human mission,
both global and personal,
is avoiding disaster.

Simon Kuper,
Financial Times, May 19, 2022