

Public discourse

Trump told one ally this week that he wanted “to brand” the informant [the FBI used in the early stages of its investigation of possible collusion with Russia by Trump's associates] a “spy,” believing the more nefarious term would resonate more in the media and with the public.

NBC Miami, May 23, 2018