Yes, I agree.

Except to use your metaphor, I don't think it's the last inning.
I think it's the last pitch.

while interviewing him on The Last Word with Lawrence O'Donnell on January 24, 2022, said:

"There is another problem with Washington news media coverage, which is, if they were baseball reporters, the way they would cover the game is the winner is whoever won the last inning. So everything Joe Biden did in the first, second, third, fourth innings of year one is forgotten when Build Back Better runs into the roadblock in the Senate and then voting rights runs into the filibuster roadblock in the Senate."
