Why does it take an influx of white New Yorkers in the south Bronx, in Harlem, in Bed Stuy, in Crown Heights for the facilities to get better?

The garbage wasn't picked up every motherfuckin' day when I was living in 165 Washington Park.

The police weren't around.
When you see white mothers pushing their babies in strollers, three o'clock in the morning on 125th Street, that must tell you something.
