

Racists say

The concern is misplaced, because if you look at the statistics, African American voters are voting in just as high a percentage as Americans.

Mitch McConnell, January 19, 2022, wrong both factually, especially when rates of voting among blacks are compared to rates among whites, and for denying that voting laws recently passed by Republican state legislatures were neither intended to nor will they have the effect of suppressing voting by minorities